CROWDED TRAIN DASHES TO RIVER THROUGH BRIDGE

Three Cars Filled with Excursionists Plunge Through Open Draw Into 25 Feet of Water 12 Dead and 60 Injured Taken from Wreck.

(Special to The Evening World.)

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 17.—An excursion train on the Atlantic Coast Line Railway carrying 500 persons from Kinston, N. C., who had planned to spend two days in this city, shot through an open drawbridge into the Elizabeth River, near Bruce's station, in Norfolk County, about seven miles from Portsmouth, to-day.

Twelve dead and sixty injured have been recovered from the wreck. A number of men and women are missing, and it is believed that the death list will be much greater than at present known.

A train ahead of the ill-fated one, and carrying 300 merchants from Augusta.

Charleston and Jacksonville, bound for TAPLEY NOT TO BE Charleston and Jacksonville, bound for New York, passed over the draw safely a short time before the one that was wrecked. Right behind came another excursion train carrying 300 excursion-ists from Rocky Mount. N. C., the en-gineer of which was warned of what had happened ahead of him just in time. Some Were Drowned.

The accident was one of the worst that has ever happened in the State, and the scenes which followed the aw-ful plunge of the train into the river were heartrending. Scores of men and women were so caught in the cars that they could not extricate themselves.

Some of the dead whose bodies have been recovered were drawned, others were crushed to death in the debris.

In all three cars went into the river. One other went partially in and the rest were either overturned or derailed. gnals, the train going onto the bridge had been set the engineer did not no-

The draw had been opened to allow a tug boat to pass and the bridge tender had closed a small fron gate across the tracks, which is always done when the bridge is open. The train, which was due in this city at 1 o'clock, was behind time and was coming along at a good rate of speed. It shot onto the bridge and in another minute engine, tender and three cars were in the river. The water at this point is twenty-five feet deep.

Reports of the accident reached Portsmouth within a short time after it happened, and every physician in the place was hurried to the scene. A relief train was sent out and wrecking crews, but at will be many hours before the tracks dan be cleared and any adequate idea of the casualties obtained. Draw Was Open for Tug.
